

The Abbey is central to the history of Beaulieu. Founded 800 years ago by Cistercian Monks from France, the Abbey was destroyed by Henry VIII during the Dissolution of the Monasteries.

This left only two buildings intact: the lay brothers' dormitory, known as the Domus, and the Monks' Refectory, now the Parish Church of Beaulieu.

The Domus holds a certain mystical quality and is the perfect setting for a dinner, conference or one of our Medieval Banquets. It can cater for up to 130 guests and also offers the reception area of Cellarers Hall.
