

NATIONAL MOTOR MUSEUM

GARAGE QUIZ

Number 5 - answers

This week's questions are general motoring questions, not specifically relating to the National Motor Museum. How many do you know? The answers will be posted on our Facebook page after the weekend. Good luck!

1. Who drove a Lotus Seven with the registration KAR 120C? Patrick McGoohan in the 1960s TV series 'The Prisoner'
2. The name of Aston Martin is derived from two sources. One is co-founder Lionel Martin but where does the first part of the name originate? Aston Clinton in Buckinghamshire, location of a famous hill climb course.
3. Roman Polanski directed the 1972 film 'Weekend of a Champion'. What is the film about? Jackie Stewart at the 1971 Monaco Grand Prix
4. What feature of the F650 motorcycle, introduced in 1994, was a 'first' for BMW? Chain-drive. All previous BMW motorcycles had been shaft-drive.
5. Introduced in the late 1950s, what was the Philips Auto-Mignon? A car dash mounted record player.
6. Who was the narrator in the children's TV series 'Roary the Racing Car'? Sir Stirling Moss
7. What innovation did Renault introduce to Formula One in 1977? Turbo-charging.
8. Who invented the 'Hydrolastic' suspension system used by the British Motor Corporation? Alex Moulton
9. What do the letters in the famous British commercial vehicle marque ERF stand for? Edwin Richard, or E.R, Foden.
10. Which Japanese car manufacturer has its origins, under a different name, exactly one hundred years ago? Mazda, founded as the Toyo Cork Kogyo Co. Ltd in January 1920, renamed Toyo Kogyo Co. Ltd in 1927

Beaulieu